P. C. Sponsors New Club

The Carmel Pine Cone editorial department herewith announces itself the sponsor of the I Walk By Golly Club, founded for the defense of Carmel against that latest disturbing gadget of the machine age, the parking meter.

And if you think we're trying to be funny, we should like to point out that the incursion of the parking meter is no joke. They have already been installed in Salinas, and Monterey is going to install them. As far as we know Pacific Grove has not yet considered the innovation. Parking has not become a major problem with Grove dwellers, as they are still in the horse and buggy age (lucky stiffs).

Carmel also is in the horse and buggy stage emotionally and mentally, but physically, progress is pushing in on us, joggling our elbows and filling up all the parking places along Ocean Avenue and Dolores streets, until the merchants say they're losing business because their customers can't find a place to leave their cars when they want to go shopping.

One merchant suggested that the city buy up some lots in the near vicinity of the shopping area and make parking stations out of them. He said that there is the lot next to the post office, for instance, and two lots at the corner of Seventh and Lincoln, and the lot back of the proposed Greyhound depot and another at Mission between Seventh and Eighth, and he wanted to know if the city could legally buy the lots for such purpose.

We said that maybe the Pine Cone would go along with him on that idea provided we got our cut out of the deal, our price to be the removal of all parking on Ocean Avenue from Junipero to Lincoln and on Dolores from Sixth to Seventh. We go to work sometimes very early in the morning when

Carmel Music School Meeting Set For June 28

Representatives of music and education in California will attend a meeting on June 28 in Carmel to solidify the proposed curriculum of the Peninsula Foundation of Music and Arts. The University of California, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Monterey Peninsula will all have representatives at the session. according to the founder of the organization, Carmalita Benson.

Among the plans for the organization will be a graduate school of music staffed by top-flight resident faculty, and the calibre of instruction will be such that a student upon graduation will not need additional study in order to begin upon a professional career. All phases of music will be taught, as well as certain allied art and academic subjects..

The plan has interested such famous people as Joseph Szigetti, Lotte Lehmann, Arthur Rubinstein, Dr. George Mann, Dr. Albert Elkus, Paul Sheats and Lyman Bryson.

An interesting collection of photographs, compiled by the famed California novelist, Gertrude Atherton, has been loaned to the Carmel Library for a limited time and will be placed on display there.

The photographs are early-day scenes of Monterey, her inhabitants and her adobes, taken by Photographer F. Lloyd Loundes.

The album was loaned to the library by Clemence Wygant, frequent visitor to Carmel, from his interesting collection of Californiana. It bears Mrs. Atherton's signature on the flyleaf, and the photographs are captioned in her handwriting. She entitled the volume, Monterey, Photographed by F. Lloyd Loundes. It is believed that the author studied many of the photographs for material in her volume, The Splendid Idle Forties.

Among the scenes are such famous adobes as the Senorita Bonifiacio home on Alvarado street, San Carlos Mission, Colton Hall, the old Pacific House, the First Theater, the home of Thomas Larkin, the home of Don Ignacio Vallejo, the Jimemo adobe, the house of Mrs. Abrego, the Ameste home, the home of General Castro and many others.

There is an interesting Monterey Bay scene, a picture of the street lined with whalebones, the old Plaza with its drinking fountain, a photograph of Mrs. Atherton, the stile at the foot of Cemetary Hill, a photo of Rosalie Leese, who was the first white child to be born in Yerba Buena and Mr. Duckworth, "the only young man in Monterey."

GETTING AROUND THE PENINSULA

WITH BETH

In the mail this week was a publicity dispatch from Santa Cruz stating that, because of unusually fine weather, more than 80,000 persons visited the recreation center of the town over the weekend. Should Carmel ever be unfortunate enough to suffer the same fate, we think the idea sponsored by the late, beloved Perry Newberry be revived. He suggested many years ago that Carmel be fenced in, guarded by a toll gate and that the toll be high enough to keep out the crowds. Speaking of numbers, we still wonder how Monterey is going to take care of the estimated 200,000 visitors during the Centennial.

With Alvarado street sparkling under a new coat of paint, fresh and original designs on store fronts, the city fathers have at long last gotten around to cleaning up the beach. A bull dozer was put to work last week, and the debris accumulated over several years is being removed. This strip of beach can be one of the most beautiful around here, as old-timers will remember. The walk from Pop Ernst's on the old boardwalk to the Del Monte bath house was always interesting and in those days the beach was kept neat and clean at all times. Swimming, when the canneries are not in operation, is particularly good in this section, there being comparitively no undertow or rip tides in the section around the Municipal wharf.

Attention Herb Caen: Your local informant is slightly behind the times. Virgil Partch has been a corporal at Fort Ord for over a year. He will probably remain one until he is released from the Army because he doesn't want to be a sergeant. Too much responsibility, he says. Also, it is not a red tie that he sports occasionally to assert his personality. His close friends will tell you that under his olive drab shirt, he wears a gay red and white striped undershirt.

What activity up the Valley these days! There is a great deal of construction going on, and what with trucks, workmen and tourists, residents estimate that traffic has increased more than 50 percent over last year at this time. Attracting an unusual amount of interest are the two prefabricated houses going up. One is on the Byington Ford place, and the other is situated near Rosie's Cracker Barrel. Bob Ford, old-time cowboy who could better Scheherazade any day with his tales, some of them true, declares that the Valley is growing so fast that he is going to have to appoint himself mayor one of these days soon.

Considered by critics to be one of the most authentic and complete volumes ever written about the west is Trail Dust and Saddle Leather by Carmel's Jo Mora. The book was published recently by Charles Scribners. Illustrations are by the author, and they include action scenes of horses and cattle, as well as detailed sketches of saddles and equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Emerson of Centerville have purchased the Del Monte Kennels from Mr. and Mrs. Verne Weil, it was learned this week, with the transaction being completed on the 15th. Emerson has recently been discharged from the Marine Corps, after four years in the service. The new owners announce that Ted Zeil will remain as handler, which is good news for local dog owners, to say nothing of local dogs.

Residents of the Mission Tract will journey to Salinas on Monday to lodge a protest against the alleged "change of use" violation of the zoning ordinance by the Mission Ranch Club. The Commission will be asked to investigate the situation thoroughly and to see that the zoning ordinance is enforced in this and other cases.

The application of residents of Carmel Valley near the Los Laureles turnoff for a six-months' extension of the interim zoning ordinance will be acted upon and turned over to the Board of Supervisors for final action.

Carmel has been having some more unusual weather. Hottest June day thus far was Tuesday, when the State Forestry thermometer recorded a high of 83 degrees at 1 o'clock. It was quite a bit hotter up the Valley, with some sections reporting a sizzling hundred, and the swimming hole at Camp Stephani had plenty of customers.

Mystery Man Cuts In On Roscelli's Garbage Franchise

Some unknown is free lancing in the garbage business, John Roscelli, official garbage collector for Carmel, reported to Commissioner of Health and Safety Donald Craig this week. This unidentified person, John believes he's a Negro, is driving around in a small truck, collecting garbage and collecting fees, catch as catch can, and new-comers who don't know the difference are giving their business to this muscleiner on the scavanger business. John says it's illegal.

Commissioner of Health and Safety Donald Craig agrees with him. John pays the city $160 per month for the franchise to collect garbage, and that means exclusively. Craig instructed John to hustle up to the police station and report this free lancer the next time he spotted him, so the police could arrest him according to due process of law.

Meanwhile, arguments go on as always between John and the merchants. Craig went around with John on his route the other day and listened to both sides with his characteristic patience. Most of the difficulties are over containers. John can charge so much per container. Each and every cardboard box that isn't broken up and put in another box or container can be charged for as a container according to the ordinance. If John charged for the eight and ten empty cardboard cartons he has to break up before he hauls them away from some places of businesses, there really would be a howl. So John does have the law on his side. The merchants should break up their cardboard boxes and put them in other boxes.

The matter of broken bottles has also come to the attention of the Department of Health and Safety. Mrs. Florence Sheron Brown collected up a bucket full of broken bottles on the beach near Cooke's cove after the holiday and showed it to Craig, pointing out that broken glass is a menace of barefoot children and adults alike.

Craig is going to request the Commissioner of Police to have the plain clothes man who patrols the beach put in uniform so that people will recognize him as THE LAW and not be so careless about breaking the ordinance prohibiting littering the beach.

City Bank Account $97,327.10; Most In Capital Outlay Fund

At the present moment the City of Carmel has $97,327.10 tucked away in the bank with the possible difference of 10c if City Clerk Peter Mawdsley has bought some postage stamps since the city treasurer, Harry C. Hilbert, turned his financial report in for last month.

There is $53,251.28 in the general fund, $1,115.73 toward paying off the bond issue of 1936, $141.14 in the library fund, $12,046.78 in the major street improvement fund, $6,255.17 set aside for the building of the sea wall, and $24,517.00 in a special fund for capital outlay (buy a fire engine, build a wing on the library, buy a lot for a city hall).

All this after the current bills were paid, $6,138.12, which was the cost of running the city last month.

Legion Buys Manzanita Club House

The historic Manzanita Club building on Dolores street, which housed the USO during the war years, was sold this week to the Carmel Post of the American Legion, after several months' negotiation. Price of the building was set at $25,000, with the Legion paying $15,000 of the total and the remainder being excused by the Manzanita Club. The figure was set in order to "keep up property values", according to the negotiators.

One of the provisions of the agreement allows the Manzanita Club members privileges of the building for life. Representing the Legion in the negotiations were Corum Jackson and Gail Chandler, while Charles Berkey and Ed Hanke represented the club.

USO furniture and equipment have been purchased by the Legion.

The Manzanita Club was founded in about 1907, and was formed purely as a social club. In the early days, the Manzanita Club parties and masquerades were an important part of community life. Among early-day members were Jack London, George Sterling, Philip Wilson, Chris Jorgensen, Dr. J. E. Beck, Delos Curtis, Frank Powers and J. E. Devendorf. present members include Ben Wetzel, Robert Leidig, Fred Leidig, M. J. Murphy, Paul Mercurio and others.

Those who signed the papers at Monday night's meeting of the Legion were Mercurio and Wetzel, for the club, and George Knapp, commander, and Barney Segal, adjutant.

P.T.A. Donates $200 To Save The Children Group

At a meeting of the executive board held at the home of Mrs. Julian von Meier Tuesday morning, the Carmel P. T. A. voted to contribute two hundred dollars to the Save the Children Federation. The money came from the Carmel P. T.A. Carnival held at Sunset school on May 24, attended by the majority of the Village.

Another gift was also voted by the P. T. A. board, which will make possible the purchase of a dental chair to facilitate the regular examination of the teeth of Carmel school children.

Under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Cass, president of P. T. A., the executive board also planned the group program for the coming year. The theme of the year's meetings will be "Community and Child Life", and throughout the meetings questions relating to the interlocking responsibilities of parent, community and school will be discussed and investigated. An attempt will be made to define in detail just exactly what are the respective responsibilities of the home and the school and the community toward its younger citizens.

The first meeting of the fall session of the P. T. A. will be held on the second Tuesday in September after school convenes.

New chairmen for the year were announced at the meeting, as follows: Mrs. Ruth Bixler, program chairman; Mrs. Evelyn Brown, finance chairman; Mrs. G. H. Burn-

GAMES COMING UP

Carmel fans will have the chance to see the Pine Cone play a non-league return engagement with the Monterey Eagles tonight at the Sunset field at 8:00 o'clock.

Tomorrow night, Saturday, at 8 o'clock the Monterey Lions and the Carmel Lions will stage a softball contest at the local field. According to Manager Lion Cliff Cook the Carmel team will make a track meet out of this event.

Softball schedule for The Pine Cone Softball Team next week includes a game Monday night at Pacific Grove with the American Legion of Monterey at 8:00 o'clock.

Thursday night on the home field at 8:00 o'clock The Pine Cone team has a return engagement with the Army, JASCO's, and then Friday evening returns to Pacific Grove to play the Monterey Elks in a league game at 8:30.

LEGION VS. LIONS

The Legion beat the Lions 14 to 12 Wednesday night under the fog at Sunset field. Everybody was outstanding including Umpire Andy Del Monte, and the dog that ran out to help the Lions' outfield—which apparently needed it.

Pine Cone Downs Eagles

Cashing in on two hitting rallies, the Carmel Pine Cone softball team in their third league appearance, walked away from the Pacific Grove Eagles Tuesday night, 6 to 0.

Starting in the first inning the local team took advantage of the Eagle's infield errors and quickly tallied four runs before being retired. They came back in the first of the seventh to pile two more runs on the score virtually ending the ball game.

Pitcher Ray Gunn was the strong man in winning his own ball game, contributing four outs from infield play. The entire team tightened up considerably from their last Pacific Grove appearance and the shut-out score was a reflection of errorless ball.

Third Baseman Harold Studevant deserved applause along with Pitcher Gumm in handling a lot of hot traffic in his corner; Studevant caught two flies and was in on four assists, three of which came in the last inning.

PINE CONE TAKES DAIRY

Pet Milk was the Carmel dish Monday night, June 17, when the Pine Cone Softball team took the Salinas dairy nine to a bouncing score of 7 to 1 under the local lights.

With a shakeup in the infield and the return of shortstop Ashley Stetson to the lineup, the Pine Cones played tighter ball than their two previous games, and, behind the steady pitching of Huffman, brought home a non-league victory in a highly effecient manner.

The scoring spree started in the first inning when three runs came across the plate for the locals, one more in the fourth inning, two in the seventh and one in the eighth. The one Pet Milk tally came in the eighth.

RASMUSSEN'S BY 2 TALLIES

The Carmel Pine Cone Softball Team lost Friday night's League game to Rasmussen in Pacific Grove, 8 to 6.

Rasmussen scored once in each of the first two innings, despite the scintilating pitching by Ky Miyamoto, who fanned five men in the two frames, while Carmel's team contributed five errors. It looked as if it were going to be a sad eve-

Card Tells of Wedding

A card to the "gang" of the Texaco and 3A Station on San Carlos street informed them of the marriage of the owner, Jim Burgess, to Mrs. Edna Moore at 6:00 P. M., June 13, at Santa Rosa, California. The newlyweds are now heading northward for an extended trip through the Northwest and Canada. They will return in about a month and take residence in their new home in Hatton Fields.

Mrs. Burgess has lived in Carmel for the past ten years. She has one son, Richard, who attends Carmel High.

Jim Burgess, Carmel business man and active member of the Lion's Club, was born in Scotland, where his mother, three sisters, and two brothers still live. He came to Carmel in the early '20s. Two brothers live here also, Mangus and Henry. Henry, just released from the Army, is now visiting his family in Scotland. He will return in about six months.

Dr. Sisson Home

Dr. E. O. Sisson, who has been teaching philosophy at Reed College, Portland, Oregon, returned home this week to enjoy his second retirement. His first occurred several years ago when he terminated teaching as a profession at Reed and took it up again as a hobby in Carmel, conducting discussion groups on current problems, semantics and philosophy at Carmel Adult School. Last year he was prevailed upon to return to Reed to help out because of the shortage of college professors. He came home by way of Three Rivers, near Visalia, for a four day visit with Lt. Commander Philip Wikelund, Mrs. Wikelund and young Philip, who celebrates his seventh month birthday this week. The Wikelunds lived for some time in Carmel while the lieutenant commander was stationed at the Navy Air Field at Del Monte. On terminal leave, Lt. Comdr. Wikelund intends to attend U.C.L.A. this fall on a fellowship to complete work for his doctorate in literature, work that was interrupted by the war. Dr. Sisson's plans for the present go no farther than "straightening out the debris," boxes of books and manuscripts that have arrived from Reed and are as yet only partially unpacked. But first he is going to clear a space on his desk to do a Have You Read for the Pine Cone.

Noel Coward's "Blythe Spirit" Here Next Week

The Noel Coward film comedy, "Blithe Spirit" will occupy the Golden Bough Playhouse screen next week after Monday night's final performance of Night Must Fall.

This impish, British-made comedy, Noel Coward at his brilliant best, has gained the high approval of discriminating audiences in the American metropolitan centers, but seems to have met with small success elsewhere in this country. Rural and small town film circuits have, in general, omitted the picture from their schedules, much as they did the diverting On Approval last year. The engagement of Blithe Spirit at Golden Bough Playhouse will be exclusive for Monterey Peninsula.

The leads in the film are Rex Harrison, already well known to local theatre-goers through Night Train and other first quality English pictures, and Constance Cummings, said to be the leading candidate for the coveted title role in the forthcoming film production of Forever Amber.

Blithe Spirit will play six days, beginning Tuesday, with matinees at two-thirty Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Douglas Beattie, California's own bass-baritone, will be the artist appearing tonight, June 21, at Sunset Auditorium in Carmel. This will be the third presentation in the summer series sponsored by the Music and Art Foundation of the Monterey Peninsula.

It was in 1935, when Mr. Beattie returned to California from several year's study and a very successful debut in Italy, that I first heard him sing in a recital at the University of California in Berkeley. I was amazed to find that his was a voice far above average, supplemented by seemingly unlimited range and dramatic power.

In 1938, Beattie was invited to join the Metropolitan Opera in New York City. Since that year he has established himself in the forefront of young American concert and operatic singers. Beside his seasons singing with the Metropolitan Opera and Chicago Opera Companies, he has appeared with the St. Louis Grand Opera and the San Francisco Opera Company. There also were many engagements as soloist with the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, the St. Louis Symphony, and other leading symphony orchestras.

Rex Uhl, the 24-year-old Berkeley artist who will be the accompanist for Beattie's Carmel program, has twice accompanied him on his annual concert tours across the United States.

Mrs. B. A. Taylor, who is leaving for Heidelberg, Germany, with her son, Dick, to join Captain Taylor in the 15th Constabulary Regiment stationed there. She was awarded the B.V.D. (Bon Voyage Degree).

Box Rent Due Now: "We'll Lock Them Out, Really"—Mylar

"We mean it more than ever," says Assistant Post Master Fred Mylar in asking the Pine Cone to remind Carmel post office patrons that box rent fell due yesterday, and anybody who isn't paid up by the first of the month will have his box rented to some newcomer on the lengthy waiting list.

There's been a great deal of wasted time and effort in the post office heretofore in handling the clerical work for late box rent payers, Mylar pointed out. This time the office intends to clear up the box rent business within the stated ten days. Felix Dougiallo has been assigned to receiving the box rent payments, and two special clerks will handle the paper work.

WOMEN VOTERS PICNIC

Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters will gather on Wednesday, June 26, for a picnic lunch and annual meeting at noon at the home of Miss Lydia Weld on 17th street and Valley View on Carmel Point. Members will bring lunch. Tea, coffee and desert will be served by the society.

This will be the end of her term for Mrs. Fenton Grigsby, who has been president for the past two years, as new officers will be elected for the coming year. Reports on the state convention in Los Angeles last month will be given, and also on the meeting in Berkeley earlier this month with the national president, Miss Anna Lord Strauss of New York. Plans for next year's program will be considered.

Afternoon of Music

Invitations are being sent out this week by Mrs. Jesusa Guidi Fremont for an afternoon of piano music on Sunday, June 30, when she presents Leslie Doolittle, Catherine Winslow and Elizabeth Sand, three of her advanced piano students. These talented young people also participated in Mrs. Fremont's Spring Musical last Saturday, given for friends and relatives of the students. On the program in addition, were Nanda Giglio, Hyale Wall, Pat Wescott, Peter Lyon, Alice Ferrante, Sanna Reddock, Fleana Giglio, Anne Ferrante, Carol Templeman, Gloria Newman, Cynthia Carr, and Joy Wescott. Though they are at different stages of technical development, they all show that achieving good tonal quality is their first objective, a highly satisfying characteristic of Mrs. Fremont's students.

Welcome to Paula Clampett

On Tuesday, June 11, a daughter Paula, was born to Paul and Ruth Clampett. She weighed 8 pounds, 11 ounces at birth. She and her mother are in the Pennisular Community Hospital.

The little girl's grandparents on her maternal side are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pinkham. Mr. Pinkham was for many years a columnist for the Kansas City Star. On her paternal side her grandparents are Mrs. Frederick W. Clampett of Carmel and the late Dr. Frederick W. Clampett, who was Rector of Trinity Church of San Francisco. Her great-aunt is Mrs. Edmund Dexter of Carmel Valley. Paula's aunt, Connie Flavin and her uncles Don and Bob Clampett are Carmelites of many years residence.

Her father has just finished his terminal leave following his discharge from the Army. Paula and her parents will make their home in Carmel.

nobody else is up and there aren't any cars parked along the curb to interrupt the view down Ocean Avenue, and it is really worth getting up early to see—once.

Pursuing the matter further we phoned City Attorney Billy Hudson to check up on our merchant friend's question, could the city legally buy land for parking lots? Billy said, legally, yes, practically, no. What kind of prices do you think the owners of these lots would charge the city with property values what they are at this present time? Even with condemnation proceedings.

Condemnation proceedings IN CARMEL! The hard feelings that would develop between neighbor and neighbor would outweigh all the accumulated irritation over the parking problem for years to come.

So we offer our alternative, The Walk by Golly Club, shoe leather versus parking meter, or Our Souls for Old Carmel.

Carmel Unincorp To Protest New Bar At "Ranch"

By KIPPY STUART

Carmel Unincorporated may slumber, but it never sleeps. Old Mother Carmel can not be more avidly awake for the protection of her peaceful dignity than is this new organization composed of residents of the Mission Tract, Carmel Point and Hatton Field. But this time Carmel Unincorporated was caught napping. A small, inconspicuous newspaper notice in an out of town paper of intent to install a third bar at the Mission Ranch had gone unnoticed when all of a sudden a member saw it.

A meeting called for last Monday afternoon at All Saints' Parish House brought a vigorously protesting group of citizens. The near neighborhood of the old Carmel Mission, where preperations are now being made for the canonization of Father Junipero Serra,—the parish school and the many homes of citizens, makes the present authority to sell intoxicating liquors in their midst intolerable. Carmel Unincorporated is not a prohibition organization, but a band of peaceful citizens who object to bars under their noses. This latest application for a third bar in their midst is a flagrant insult and ruthless lack of consideration for the peace and quiet of this residential district.

Carmel Unincorporated decided that once and for all this question of the Mission Ranch is to be settled. There are rumors to the effect that all sorts of liberties have been taken with the zoning laws at the Mission Ranch; that the Badminton court has been converted into a banquet hall; that other buildings are to be diverted from their original usage. Secretary of the Planning Commission stated that he would have the matter investigated immediately.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Wesley Kergan, the presiding officer was Miss Lydia Weld. Assisting Miss Weld was an impressive group of citizens. Charles Vogal, Secretary of the Monterey County Planning Board; Gordon Campbell, Ass'n District Attorney; Corum Jackson, Chairman of the local planning board. These three gentlemen were present in an advisory capacity. Miss Weld was also assisted by Blanchard Steeve and Charles McHarry. Mr. McHarry acts as legal advisor for Carmel Unincorporated.

All indignant members were as one in their desire to prevent further invasion, but discussion from the floor poured out pellmell, opinions were not clearly expressed. At this point, at all meetings, Blanchard Steeve always steps in and in his masterful fashion, in a few well chosen words, clears up obscure issues and makes everything jell.

On Monday, June 24, a delegation from Carmel Unincorporated will appear at Salinas to represent their organization. When this third bar matter at the Mission Ranch has been attended to and settled, then Carmel Unincorporated will go after alleged violations of the zoning law.

Good Health Record For Carmel Schools In Spite Of Mumps

There were 115 cases of mumps among high school and Sunset students this year, the first epidemic of mumps in several years, according to School Nurse Florence Morrow's annual report to the school board. Other communicable diseases were neglible: one case of scarlet fever, twelve of German measles and 3 of red measles.

It was colds and flu that was the chief causes of absence in both schools. "First aid has been a steady business through out the year at Sunset, but chiefly for minor injuries and poison oak," she reported.

A thorough program of testing was carried out, 661 pupils given health examinations by Dr. James Moran, Dr. Margaret Levick and Dr. Virginia Cobb. Vision tests were given 337 pupils of whom 86 showed visual defects. Hearing tests, made on 747, revealed 26 with hearing impairment.

The immunization program included 108 immunized against dyptheria, and 287 vaccinated against smallpox. This service is provided by the county board of health.

In the last five years of the school term, the school nurse made 115 home calls, 12 visits to the board of health and 2 visits to clinics, for a total of 129 visits in additional to her daily work of checking up on students at both Sunset and the high school.

You get the soiled clothes Ready, and put them in the machine. You Set a few knobs or dials and the machine starts to Go. It washes clothes thoroughly, stops, drains itself and then rinses the clothes two or three times and finally spins the clothes damp dry.

The new automatic clothes washers are real time and labor savers. Your hands are never in water, you never have to lift heavy, wet clothes. You don't even have to stand-by! Your Automatic does the work of washing—all by itself—alone!

Plan now to have one of the new Automatic Clothes Washers in your home as soon as they are available. Consult your dealer now.

PLAN TO HAVE A MODERN HOME LAUNDRY

Carmel Book Sellers Start Out In Best Carmel Tradition, Behind A Picket Fence And Strawberry Patch

Behind a white picket fence and a strawberry patch over on Mission street near fifth, there is a whitewashed shack with the sign, Carmel Booksellers, tacked over a smaller sign which reads "Temporary Quarters". And in this quiet, unobtrusive way, two young men of extraordinary bookish backgrounds are establishing a literary center in Carmel.

These two young men—Warren Wright and John Frederick Harley, Jr., combine a widely divergent experience in the field of books. Warren's 25 years in the book business include the Library School at Columbia University, and apprenticeship in New York's Publishers' Row. He then graduated to Putnam's, where he was display manager and buyer of fiction.

One day, Publisher Bennett Cerf remarked to Warren, over a $35 lunch, (which Warren remarked was two weeks' salary for him) "I hear you're unhappy at Putnam's!" So Warren, up from Cerfdom, as it were, transferred his activities to Random House Modern Library, where he spent 4½ years. Later he was associated with Christopher Morley, and was book reviewer on station WRNY in New York City for a year. Subsequently, he was engaged in the book business on the Pacific Coast, and has just closed his bookshop in San Francisco previous to his Carmel debut. Warren, by the way, is the nephew of California's beloved Carmen, Alice Gentle.

John Harley, ex-Captain of the U. S. Army Air Forces, served as classification officer of the 11th Air Force in the Alaska-Aleutian area. Through personnel work, he learned that in the AAF, reading needs were not necessarily supplied by current best seller lists, but rather were a means of stimulating mental curiosity and extending the knowledge of books. John is a member of the National Vocational Guidance Association and the Mental Hygiene Society of Northern California. His current interest lies in psychoanalytical literature as a means of straightening out post-war confusion. John was associated with Warren in the initial San Francisco bookshop, and previous to that, was on the staff of the San Francisco Argonaut, under the editorship of the late Charles Caldwell Dobie, following Joseph Henry Jackson in the Book Review Department. He also worked on Controversy, when Elliott Taylor was editor of that magazine. It was Elliott's wife, Kressmann Taylor, you remember, who wrote "Address Unknown."

Warren and John selected Carmel for their location, because, they say, "Carmel is one of the cornerstones of California's literary frontier." Plans are in the making for a new and enlarged shop on the Mission street property, where they plan to bring to Carmel the old world flavor of Friday night salons. These evenings will be devoted to good conversation—and the presence of California writers and artists.

Although modern trend books will not be overlooked, the stock of the Carmel Booksellers will be shaped by readers' wants. One of the specialties will be the obtaining of out-of-print books, and rare items. One of their purposes will be providing for a reader interested in one particular subject, the best books obtainable on that subject, regardless of publication date—in short, a competent, thoughtful Book Advisory Service.

The fine initial stock already includes rare English editions by English authors, and antique volumes which include 16th and 17th century classics, rare press books from Roycroft, Elzivir and Baskerville. Also among opening items of particular interest to Carmelites, is a folio volume, 1731, of "Missiles and Masses" in the original binding.

"In conclusion," says Warren, "It is our intention to develop a publishing outlet exclusively for Carmel authors, and we are particularly interested in publishing limited editions of Californiana." Incidentally, Warren has already published the Grabhorn edition of the poems of Madeline Gleason of San Francisco.

The organ recitals for the Bach Festival this year promise to be of more than the usual devoted interest. Dr. C. Harold Einecke of St. Louis, Missouri, has been engaged to give the two organ programs of the Festival week, which will take place in All Saints' Church, at 3:00 and 4:00 p. m. on Wednesday and Friday afternoons, July 24 and 26.

Dr. Einecke is an authority on music in worship, his European training covering most of the music capitols of Europe with organ work at Westminister Abbey, London, under Dr. Ernest Bullock; voice under Dudley Buck and Dr. William Drew; conducting with Herbert Wiseman of Edinburgh University, and Dr. John Finley Williamson, also with Sir. Adrian Boult now Music Director of the B. B. C., theory and composition with Ralph Vaughan Williams. Dr. Einecke founded the Bach Festival Foundation of Grand Rapids, Michigan. He has played and lectured in 38 states of this country, and in Canada, and is on the coast this summer as lectured for the University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

Carmel's Ninth Bach Festival will be held July 22-28, Gastone Usigli conducting, under the producing management of Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous.

ning, when Carmel took hold in the third and scored three runs with no apparent effort, and took over the lead 3 to 2.

Rasmussen came back in the first of the fourth with two runs, making the score 4 to 3. The heavy bats of Fought, Miyamoto and Taylor brought hits through the infield and three runs were tallied for Pine Cone in the last of the fourth and the board read 6 to 4.

Rasmussen tied up the score in the fifth inning, took over the lead with two more runs in the sixth, and that's where the runs ended at the end of the seventh, 8 to 6.

George Mosolf, Summer Recreation Director and High School coach, took advantage of the coaching conference held at Stanford this week under the guidance of Stanford's Marchie Schwartz and staff. While attending the three-day school for high school and jaysee coaches, George picked up future games with Peninsula teams for his own Pine Cone Softball nine. He left Gene Ricketts in charge of the team.

ARMY BY ONE RUN

Army got its revenge last week, when the 286th JASCO outfit from Fort Ord won out over The Carmel Pine Cone Softball Team 6 to 5.

After losing two previous games to Pine Cone, JASCO, behind the speed pitching of "Cannonball" Starns, picked up its first run in the third inning of the game and after that they never trailed.

The Pine Cone bunch, with Pitcher Gumm, started fast in the first inning, when they filled the bases without too much trouble, and it looked as though they were going to walk through the Army for a third time. However, all men died on base and the Army scored twice in the fifth inning, tallied again in the sixth to boost the score to 4 to 0.

Pine Cone came back at the end of the seventh to score its first run. Both teams blanked in the eighth inning and the JASCO's scored two runs in the first of the ninth.

In a desparate 'old-college-try' the printers got the range on Starns in the last of the ninth and began to clip the ball over the infield, starting a rally which looked like a winning effort. One run was scored by Hoffman, Gumm and Taylor both hit, and then Fought, playing center field, came to bat to knock one through center field for a clean home run.

The score was then 6 to 5 and two out, when a close decision by base umpire Andy Weimann nearly broke up the contest. The Army's manager was all for taking his team from the field, but his own players sent him back to the bench, a brawl was averted, and the Army made the third out to finish the game.

RAIN-CHECK RESULTS

By F. Shea

A strong north wind made the Cypress Point course far from easy last Saturday for the Rain-Check match-play-against-par golf tournament, and scores were consequently lower than usual. An odd number of entries necessitated the tourney be played in three fivesomes; some players were given two partners and acted as different individuals in the match.

Mrs. H. C. Hunt and John B. Morse were the winners, 4 up.

Tied for second place at 3 up were the teams: Charles M. Daniels and Harrison Godwin; Stuart Haldorn and Charles Crocker.

Other players: Mrs. Frances A. Elkins and Paul S. Winslow, 1 up; R. W. Woodruff and the Club pro, Henry J. Puget, 1 up; Samuel F. B. Morse and R. W. Woodruff, even; Commander Pliny Guernsey Holt and Stuart Haldorn, even; Harry C. Hunt and Carl Thompson, even; Mrs. Frances A. Elkins and Edward Christenson, 2 down.

Our Insect Friends and Foes
APHIDS
(Plant Lice)

The Potato Aphid

Aphids are the widest spread and greatest potential insect enemy of man. Hardly a plant, tree or shrub but has its particular kind of aphid to prey upon it. Only the ease with which aphids are killed saves the world from being overrun with them.

Aphids are suckers or drinkers. They have a tiny bill or mouth part that is shoved into the soft tissue of the plant or fruit and withdraws sap as a mosquito draws blood. Even the roots are occasionally attacked. Because of this method of feeding, the aphid must be killed by a spray that is directed against the insect's body. No matter how much poison there may be spread on a plant, the aphid is not harmed, for it pushes its bill right through the poison deposit.

There are many insects that prey on aphids and they are easily killed by dry, hot weather. No one could grow a crop if the aphids did not have a great many enemies.

HOW TO COMBAT APHIDS
Use a contact spray such as black leaf 40 which contains nicotine that paralyzes the insects. Spray often and early as soon as the first insect appears. Always spray the undersides of the leaves for there is where the aphids hide. Food is needed. The government says that our reserve of canned goods is at a record low point. This year garden and can.

Sometimes aphids even attack the roots

Have You Read . . . ?

By Wilma Cook

"When side branches break off from the pines, they tend to leave stubs which vary in length from a few inches to several feet. These stubs are attractive to animals in several ways. They provide perching places where there is good visibility through the woods and at the same time screen is assured above by the crown of the tree. Western flycatchers build their nests on these stubs, and pigmy nuthatches find suitable locations in them for excavation of their nesting cavities. Gray squirrels carry food from the ground to these stubs, to gain added safety as they feed. Bluebirds use them as lookout perches in scanning the floor of the woods for food."

The above quotes are from Vertebrate Animals of Point Lobos Reserve, Joseph Grinnell and Jean M. Linsdale (Hastings Reservation Linsdale) and they lead directly into why you can't drag off the dead limbs you find scattered around on the forest floor at Point Lobos to build bonfires for mussel bakes.

"The fallen trunks and limbs, even the very small ones, are sought out and tunneled under by many animals, especially meadow mice. Amphibions and reptiles find moisture, darkness, and concealment under the logs more often than in any other situation in the Reserve. The larger accumulations of brush and the dead tops of fallen trees are used by those animals which need perches and concealment close to the ground and accessibilety to shade. Some of these are Bewick wren, junco, valley quail and black phoebe."

The first printing of this excellent book on the animal life at Point Lobos, published under the joint auspices of the Carnegie Institution and the Save the Redwood League, sold out quickly. Unfortunately, people are not aware that there was a second printing after a lapse of time and that the book, Publication No 481, is again available at the Carnegie Institution of Washington. The ignorance about the availability of this book must be very widespread, because it is not on the shelves of the Carmel Library, where it certainly belongs for a number of reasons, the most obvious one, the near neighborhood of Point Lobos. For those of us who regard Point Lobos as our second front yard, it is like a guide book to the palm of our hand, so that we find ouselves seeing for the first time the things we have been looking at all our lives with only partial awareness.

For instance, how often have you looked at the bird islands at the south end of the reserve, noted the guano on the gravely soil, the flurry of wings in the vicinity and let it go at that. After you've read the diary-like account of Dr. Linsdale's and Dr. Grinnell's observations of the population of those rocks, you'll point them out to the visiting firemen and be not a little plagued if the V. F. fail to be suitably impressed on learning that the birds are cormorants, that they are sitting on nests, and that the little creatures that look like baby turkeys, brown and full of freckles, are very young western gulls.

Those of us who aren't even amateur naturalists will get that much out of the book. And for those who have a primer acquaintance with bird and animal life in this area, it is a generous source of additional knowledge, for it contains a report on observations made at varying intervals for a period of a year of each individual species of bird, mammal, and reptile found within the reserve, their habits and their adjustment to their environment, and the effect of man upon their environment. In discussing the behavior of the animals and birds, it was necessary to write at some length on the plant life at Lobos, so that there is also material of interest to the botanist. The style is simple, and narrative whenever possible, and scientific terminology is held down to a minimum, so that the average reader can grasp it without any undue strain or difficulty.

POEM FOR THE VERY YOUNG

Part II.

We have taken the starred heaviness of the great waters
upon us,
Clutched hands, broken, fallen through darkness,
and washed to shores
Not visited in any dream to the little flares of ancient fires;
We have lost our words in this language of noise, and sound
Stirs no familiar bell within our ear.
We are the dead
Who walk among you vaguely in the smoke,
seeking an unstoned grave,
An unmarked mound.
Strange flowers
Spring from out these skulls; strange leaves and fragrance lift.
We seed our kind to bloom again,
and thunder and the brilliant rains
Shall clothe them, and Spring throw grass across their places,
Hushing the sounds of stirring underneath.
O we shall rock our cradles, and the world will shake to our sleeping!
These dead shall overrun the earth,
twisting about its ruins,
Dragging at the standing chimneys,
and whistling in the hollows!
There shall come among you our wise and aged children
With their historied eyes, and you will receive them,
children,
Into your hands and keeping . . .
They will build upon us,
And your world shall shake above the cradles of our sleeping!

This rivered dark weighted by stars upon us
And the reaching hands dismembered by it:
What voices drowned in its floods, what words,
That no face of flower or form now lightens it?
It is the down-going that is strange; the plunge-sweep
As of folded wings passing the streaming lights,
The worlds lost in the ear-winds of falling.

I thought: "They will be here too, their hands like Christmas lights
To reach toward, and their voices as the picnic songs of Summer,
It will be the circled season broken to make room;
And I shall sit among them, seeing the sharp-thorned edge
Of leaves; the ant, disturbed, frantic about his going . . ."

It is not in form or shape we come,
But as the making of a wave, or the widening enclosure
Of a hard-struck bell.

—Amelia Snyder McIntyre.

Days Before Yesterday

By Therese Tag Whiteside

Remember what fun it was to watch the launching of the life-raft on Carmel beach every summer? Bathing was really safe in those days. Stalwart swimmers would tow the float out beyond the breakers. How exciting it was to see them maneuver it through the rolling surf. Beyond the last line of breakers, they would securely anchor it. The life-rope, floated by large corks strung upon it, stretched from the raft to a post set deep in the sand.

Everybody went "in bathing." Our idea of fun was to join hands and jump the breakers as they came in. There were shouts and shrieks as the ocean swells lifted us high in the air. Of course, we stayed within clutching distance of the life-rope.

In the summer of 1910, the Bathhouse at Carmel was re-opened by Mrs. Agnes D. Signor, who later founded La Playa Hotel in the Jorgenson house. Her nephews, the Godwin boys, had not yet arrived in town. She hired two college girls as bathhouse attendants. They sold peanuts, popcorn, candy and soda pop. For a quarter you could rent a bathing-suit, towel, and dressing-room. Most of us rented suits, because, it was no fun carrying a dripping garment at arm's length up the broken board walk of Ocean Avenue.

Carmel Bathhouse bathing-suits were the very latest thing, being exact replicas of the exclusive models featured at the hot salt-water plunge on Del Monte Beach. Blouse, skirt, and bloomers were combined in one devastating (?) outfit. The middy had a large square collar, tie, and puffed sleeves. The skirt was full, the bloomers fuller. Two rows of white braid ran around collar, cuffs, and skirt bottom, which barely covered the knees (daring innovation!)

But wait—from the knees down you were clad in long black stocking. These were absolutely a must. You dared not remove them, even though half of each stocking-foot was packed with heavy sand and resembled a lumpy Christmas stocking. Mrs. Grundy said it would not be proper—(by the way, what ever became of Mrs. Grundy?).

Now for that first swim out to raft. You pray that your skirt won't billow up over your head and blind you, or your sand-bag stockings drag you under the sea. Your bloomers, filled with air, balloon when you hit the water. Though they increase your bouyancy, they slow down your swimming.

You start out with a nicely-executed breast stroke, always keeping within grabbing distance of the life-rope. Eventually, you reach the raft and pull yourself over the side. Now for a nice sun-tan (1910 version) on your face and hands. Your clammy garments cover you from head to toe, and you shiver in the breeze.

You decide to start for shore, remembering that it will take you at least three hours to dress. Your long hair is saturated with sticky salt water, in spite of cap and bandanna. It will need five rinsings before you can dry it in the "sun room" at the Bathhouse.

The sun room was a standing joke. The windows were opaque with years of salty spray. Their locks and hinges were so corroded they could not be opened. Thus it was a tedious process to dry your long thick hair. Afterwards it had to be unsnarled, brushed, combed, braided, and pinned up before you could appear in public.

It took plenty of patience and stamina in those days to be "the athletic type!"

The annual ball of the Carmel Firemen will take place on Saturday evening, June 24, at the Manzanita Theatre. The moving picture show scheduled to take place on that date will be given on Friday. —Pine Cone, May 24, 1916.

It Just Goes to Prove

The mountain may not go to Mohammed, but here is one wedding party that's going to the best man!

Helen Wasson and "Kelly" Taylor had planned an earlier marriage, but Helen's brother, Harry Butts was seriously injured in an accident awhile ago and now, though well on the way to recovery, he will be unable to leave the hospital to perform his duties as best man for some time to come. So on Thursday, June 27, the wedding party will gather at his bedside in the Salinas Hospital for the ceremony.

Helen is the daughter of Mrs. Jane Butts of Alameda. Kelly comes from Columbus, Georgia. He served 18 months in the Aleutians while in the Army. Having received his discharge, he is working in Carmel, where the couple will make their home.

James Kelsey Takes Bride

On June 15 at 5 o'clock James M. Kelsey took as his bride Francis Owens of Monterey.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Trawin at his home, where a reception followed, Mrs. Martin R. McAulay honoring the bridal couple.

With only immediate relatives and friends present, the young couple exchanged vows before a fireplace banked with white stock on which stood lighted tapers. Mrs. John Hutchison and Mr. Richard Pelton served as matron-of-honor and best man.

The bride was lovely in a pink gaberdine suit and black accessories. She wore a corsage of orchids. Mrs. William Owens, the bride's mother, was in black, with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Ivan Kelsey, the groom's mother, wore a print dress with tan accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Out of town visitors in addition to the bride's mother, included her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchison, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Owens, all of Fresno.

Mrs. Eda Kelsey, grandmother of the groom, was present, as were his father, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Atrim, newly-weds themselves.

Jimmy, after graduating from Carmel High, joined the Navy, where he served for 29 months in the South Pacific. The new Mrs. Kelsey was formerly employed, after her graduation from Monterey High, at Fort Ord. After a week's wedding trip the couple will return to Carmel to live.

Beach Party

"Turning the table" on the many friends who have been entertaining them, Betsy Peyton and "Happy" Serrem were hostesses at a beach party on June 12.

Those asked to gather on the beach and toast weiners, eat a lot of good food, and sing songs were Mesdames: Joan Jones, Dorothy Skelley, B. Palmer Jr., W. H. Willoughby, R. Starkey, Downs Atwood, L. P. Collins Jr., H. S. Balsam, Charles White, and Miss P. J. Bowen.

Also joining in the fun was Betsy's young daughter, Jeanie and her friend, Patsy Canoles.

Visiting here during June and July are Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Caufield Jr. and their daughters, Joan and Betty Joan's first starring role is in Susie Slagle which opens Friday at the Carmel Theatre.

Joan attended school at Miss Beards in Orange, New Jersey, then to Columbia where she appeared with the Morning Side Players. After two years at Columbia, Joan turned to Broadway where she appeared in Beat the Band, then in Kiss and Tell she played Corliss Archer for over a year.

Joan has a seven year contract with Paramount. Pictures in which she appears as leading lady for both Bing Crosby and also Bob Hope are to be released later in the year.

Betty, Joan's younger sister, leaves next week for Denver where she will appear in stock for the following ten weeks. Coincidentally, when Hollywood called Joan, Betty stepped into the part in Kiss and Tell, where she kept the Caufield name on the Marquee for another year.

FOR LIFE
★ CALIFORNIA DAIRY INDUSTRY ADVISORY BOARD

"HOW CAN I FEED MY FAMILY PROPERLY and still keep within my budget?" is the biggest question facing most housewives . . . not once in a while, but all the time!

One simple, basic answer to that question is, "Use more dairy foods."

Dairy foods supply the minerals, vitamins, proteins and carbohydrates in the well-balanced proportions you need for health, growth and vigor. They are the richest food source of calcium, needed for strong bones, beautiful teeth, clear complexions.

From the standpoint of nutritional values, dairy products are your most economical foods. At twice the price, they would still be your best "food buys."

Picnickers! . . . that means all of us these summer days, doesn't it? . . . Well, our worries are over as to how to get the lunch there all in one piece, in good shape and with no mes or confusion . . . . FORTIER'S DRUG STORE, on Ocean, has solved that problem for us . . . Picnic sets in neat navy canvas, reinforced with brown leather - waterproofed composition linings and steel brads on the bottom so they'll stand upright - sturdy handles too. Inside - a metal lunch box stands between two large Thermos vacuum bottles made by the American Thermos Bottle Co. to keep things hot or cold so much longer - practically unbreakable, tested for utility and long service. This picnic set is neat and compact - practical and good-looking. Just the thing for trips, too, and the Thermos bottles can be used to prepare late snacks or soup for lunches in advance . . . FORTIER'S have a big new stock of boxed cigars . . . Popular brands and imported Havana cigars, too.

Hotdogs roasted over the fireplace at eleven o'clock . . . If you've been dinner dancing on Thursday, Friday or Saturday, lately, at CASA MUNRAS HOTEL AND COTTAGES, in Monterey, you've been in on this feast. Julian cooks the hotdogs at the central fireplace in the Patio Room and they are passed out to everyone just when you feel the need of a snack so that you can keep up with the fun . . . Incidentally, CASA MUNRAS has been having quite a waiting line for dinner and dancing —it might be well to phone for a reservation the next time you plan to go over for the evening.

Carefree, sunny days! . . . Dress for them while they're with us! . . . MAXINE'S, on Dolores, have the perfect, adaptable, comfortable, trim and attractive outfit for the summer scene . . . It's a three-piecer by Lynn Lester — in washable spun rayon sharkskin — a shortsleeved, jaunty battlejacket blouse and a full, pleated skirt and pedalpushers to match, if you want them . . . You're set to go anywhere and do anything! Fun to wear, too, in blush pink, lemon yellow, aqua or white . . . Your dream coat is just in at MAXINE'S . . . The one you've been waiting for — by Town Craft in 100% Stafford wool — guaranteed lining — raglan shoulders — buttons to the neck — wearable, lovable white wine, the color that goes so well with everything! Completes your wardrobe as no other coat can.

The good old days are back! . . . Long Island Duckling at SADE'S again! . . . When I went in for dinner Sunday night and saw it back on the menu, I gave three cheers and ordered it pronto! I've been dreaming about it for so long and it's just as good as ever, with the savory dressing and that delectable orange sauce. You remember, of course, that there never has been anything better than SADE'S Long Island Duckling . . . Another triumph from SADE'S kitchen is Chicken Saute a la Marengo in Casserole with those wonderful fresh mushrooms! Now, there is a real banquet prepared for the visiting royalty — that's you, when you dine at SADE'S. And, naturally, a word about the magnificent steaks — always the finest . . . Dinner at SADE'S makes any evening an event in your culinary calendar!

Collections of prints by well-known artists . . . at the H. L. FRISBIE FURNITURE STORE, on Dolores. Invaluable for art students, teachers and collectors. Moderate prices make these sets of reproductions very practical for study purposes and faithful, beautiful detail and color make them a joy to behold in their own right . . . The collections include: 6 Color Reproductions of Van Gogh Painting — .90; Renoir Painting, 5 Color Reproductions — $1.00; 5 Color Prints of Pieter Brueghel's work — .75; 5 of Manet's — $1.00 Contemporary Cuban Painting, 10 Color Reproductions — $1.50; Contemporary American Painting, 10 Color Reproductions — $1.00; 6 Chinese Paintings from the British Museum, Reproduced in Color — $1.25 — these go back to the 13th century . . . Then, the Artex Collection of Beautiful and Accurate Color Reproductions of Masterpieces of Art — from very early work to the modern and impressionistic school — 200 prints — $4.00. Marvelous for anyone interested in fine prints for study and appreciation.

The Picture Story of Your Wedding! . . . the Great Day lives forever! If I had it to do over again, I wouldn't be satisfied without a series of these candid shots! Don't miss looking in the window at the BEAUX ARTS STUDIO AND CAMERA SHOP, Ocean at Lincoln — pictures taken of the recent marriage of Miss Doris Evans to Lt. Col. Benjamin Kercheval. Radiance, bridal satin and West Point! The glamor of portrait photography plus an aliveness that tells the story so eloquently from the time the bride left for the church until Man and Wife drove off after the reception. Every picture a happy memory — note one titled "Just Married, Huba! Huba!" The BEAUX ARTS have a book made up of these pictures — see what you can have to browse over on your Golden Wedding Day! 6 shots or 30 or 40. The BEAUX ARTS, with a San Francisco background in this work, has already made it popular in Carmel. A wonderful idea!

Philatelists! . . . Stamp collectors! . . . STALLINGS' STAMP SHOP, Dolores near Ocean, is dedicated to your hobby! They have a large stock of wonderful United States stamps and, now that the war is over, more and more fascinating, rare European stamps. With the paper shortage letting up, too, STALLINGS' line of accessories is growing more complete daily. Naribo and Scott albums and other supplies. Anything not in stock that you particularly want for your collection, STALLINGS' will gladly try to secure for you. Such pleasant people and so interested in stamps and in helping you!

Summertime, playtime, time for smart slack suits and gay, little play dresses . . . You'll be sure to find just what you want at HOWARD'S DRESS SHOP, in Monterey . . . For instance: Superbly tailored slack suits that are, at the same time, different and gala — Eisenhower jackets with knit braid trim—black with green, white with navy, gray with black and melon with black—deep armholes—originals by Sun Rose of California. Or if you prefer a longer suit coat style, there is a beauty —collarless—hand-stitched—shades like lime, cocoa, aqua and banana . . . And play dresses! . . . One especially striking and beguiling—completely strapless, held up with a drawstring—white rayon Shantung with yellow, blue, green and brown in a memorable Aztec design! Or black butcher linen with glazed chintz in yellow and white stripes in the perky "bustle," belt, and single strap that ties on one shoulder . . . sensational!

Exquisite handwrought jewelry in silver or copper! . . . at the CYNTHIANN, on Dolores. Made by hand, in the mountains of North Carolina, by Stuart Nye, the originator of the famous Dogwood jewelry — which is included in this selection. Other motifs, too, in these skillfully crafted earrings, bracelets, lapel pins and rings — leaf designs from the oak, maple and beach — delicate lily and pansy patterns — graceful, flowing Willow Wings — and, most appropriately for Carmel, friendly, little pine cones . . . Once again, here is something, at the CYNTHIANN, that really has to be seen to be appreciated. Perfectly charming for yourself or for gifts — by the way, darling children's bracelets, too.

If you eat breakfast out, try SENAC'S! . . . Perfectly wonderful, fragrant, steaming coffee — eggs just the way you want them! Homecooking with none of the bother! What more could you ask? Prompt, courteous service, too. Even if you don't breakfast out as a rule, it will be a pleasant change to whip up to the corner of Ocean and Mission some morning and start the day right with breakfast at SENAC'S. Remember SENAC'S are open until 11:30 p.m. now . . . Of course, you couldn't forget those delicious steaks and chops and your old standby, ham and eggs — all extra good somehow at SENAC'S.

Carmel's own artists . . . The HANDCRAFT COTTAGE, Dolores near 7th, is daily enlarging its stock of handwork. On display — oils and portraits by Royal Stowell, pastels by Dorothy Westover, a few Culbertsons . . . Etchings in wood by the Misses Adams and Johnson — Carmel scenes and dogs — your own dog done to order. The HANDCRAFT COTTAGE — home of Carmel arts and crafts.

Have you been to the VAGABOND'S CORNER? . . . It's just a step off Lincoln inside the Pine Inn Gardens, you know . . . The jewelry alone is worth going in to see . . . Beautiful Oriental jewelry designed by May Mott-Smith, sister of the former governor of Hawaii and well-known in Carmel. She won one of the World's Fair awards for her designs and this jewelry is really unusual. One ring, in the window, especially appealed to me — a large oblong piece of malachite — lovely blue-green hue — silver setting — most striking. Another noteworthy item — the little cat skillfully carved in amethyst on a silver pin . . . Please, don't miss the gold cobra ring from Ceylon with the star sapphire — sinister but beautiful! . . . And then, graceful stemware you would cherish — cocktail and champagne glasses, water goblets, small brandy snifters. Sets of hard-to-get cocktail picks, too — amusing little fish, dogs, pigs . . . Stunning, handblocked linen bridge sets, luncheon mats, cocktail napkins — bold flower, crab and bamboo designs — green, yellow, beige, wine, blue, white . . . Incomparable Wedgwood demi-tasse cups and saucers — perfect gifts — an intriguing idea for collecting! . . . The VAGABOND'S CORNER is well worth finding in it's hidden spot. It offers you the treasures of the world and will try to find any item you desire from any of the magical far places!

Fiesta fashions! . . . The MARIANNA SHOP, in Monterey, wishes you a gala Centennial and has just the clothes for you to wear and enjoy . . . Have you seen their gay Mexican window? . . . Sombreros, shawls, lace scarves—arranged to set off gay skirts and blouses for you! Ankle-length ruffled skirts to swish around your dancing feet — black with white lace or all the colors of the rainbow blended in striking patterns and tiered with lace. Shorter skirts to wear in the carefree days of celebration — black again with eyelet edging on a big ruffle or tiered with many white lace inserts — pink, green, red with white polka dots — happy little prints . . . And the peasant blouses — sheer white with lace or vivid embroidery — colored sheers with black drawstrings—any style your heart desires . . . Flowers for your hair and Mexican jewelry to make the picture complete and so very fetching!

Where to go for lunch or dinner? . . . How does Roast Sirloin of Beef au jus sound? . . . Or Maryland Fried Chicken in the real old Southern style? . . . You'll find them both, and many other tempting dishes, at the BLUE BIRD TEA ROOM, on Ocean near Lincoln . . . If you want sandwiches made up to take out — to the beach, for a hurry-up lunch or an in-between snack — the BLUE BIRD will fix you up in a jiffy . . . Here is a tea room that serves real, honestly good meals and you'll love the big fireplace, gay curtains and colorful candles — very Carmel!

California in the limelight! . . . Books about the old days and the new in this state of ours are still going like hotcakes at Edith Griffin's VILLAGE BOOK SHOP, Ocean between Dolores and San Carlos . . . California in cooking and gardening, too! A new shipment of the popular "California Cook Book" and Helen Van Pelt Wilson's attractive volumn on Pelargoniums (Geraniums, between you and me) mentions samples from Carmel gardens . . . Now that it's a post-war summer and we're all visiting around again, remember that books or a Book Token are always welcome gifts for your hostess. A good shipment of Modern Library editions at the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP, too.

Blouses! . . . If you want a blouse, you simply can't miss at the PIONEER, on Dolores next to the Post Office! A big new stock practically every type imaginable . . . Frilly, tailored — V necks, turtle necks, round necks — sheers, cottons, sharkskins, meshes, dotted swiss, wool jerseys, rayons — prints, polka dots, checks, solid colors, whites — long sleeves, cap sleeves, short sleeves — smart, tailored, long-sleeved styles, frilly peasant blouses with festive, little drawstrings! The all wool jerseys with cap sleeves and patch pockets are most attractive in raspberry, black, white, chartreuse, powder blue or Kelly green. Panchos too — like dickeys, but tie in front, to be worn without a jacket — white, pink, lime, powder, black, or a delicate print on sheer white — practical and so charming!

Carmel Ambulance Crew Saves Life Of Kitty Aucourt

The diligent work of Carmel's Volunteer Ambulance Crew saved the life of little Kitty Aucourt, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Aucourt. Last Tuesday Kitty fell against the door of an automobile as her mother parked it at 5th and Lincoln. The door flew open and the child fell to the pavement, sustaining a head injury.

The call was turned in at 3:55 P. M. and the men responded immediately. For one hour and twenty minutes they worked the resusitator on the child using four tanks of oxygen. The resuscitator was in continual use in moving the child from the scene of the accident to the hospital.

The volunteer men of the ambulance crew who answered the call were: Gene Ricketts, Andy Wiemann, Gil Severns, and Dave Machado.
